(By United Press.)

Paris, Aug. 27.—The Matin declared at noon today that not a single German was remaining in Bapaume.

The last German defense before Roye was broken by the French this morning and they are now within less than a mile of the town which is also threatened from the north by the British.

Resumption of activity is reported in the Noyon region.

The French are also attacking along the Ailette line and pushing southward toward Coucy Le Chateau.

With the British Armies in France, Aug. 27.—The British launched a new attack at 4:45 o'clock this morning with the prospect of making the situation below Bapaume as precarious as it is above, where the line is actually beyond the city.

The New Zealanders reached the northern outskirts of Bapaume during the night. They captured prisoners from 4 battalions, including a battalion commander.

At the same time the British troops are moving eastward along the Scarpe. Highlanders along the north and Canadians on the south, taking advantage of yesterday's important gain.

The British last night went down the slope of Henimel and over the advance country of the old Hindenburg line. They captured the ground easily but they found the Germans holding hard in the support.

The fighting below Bapaume is unusually violent in places. The Germans threw the 57th division in to Longueval last night counter attacking and driving back the British just after the latter had seized the town. This makes more than 20 divisions of Germans identified by Byng's men. As yet little effort has been made to carry Bapaume directly although there is patrol fighting on the outskirts.

Canadians Stop Attack

London, August 27.—Canadian troops after capturing Wancourt, carried their line east of Gemappe. Field Marshal Haig announced today.

A counter attack forced the British back from Longueval to Highwood. The counter attack was broken up at that point and the British position re-established east of Highwood.

French Advance on Roye

Paris, Aug. 27.—French troops advanced toward Roye this morning after repulsing several counter attacks, the war office announced. Artillery fighting continued between the Aisne and Ailette last night. Prisoners taken yesterday totaled 1,100. The French advanced three-fourths of a mile east of Bagneux.

German positions north and east of Soissons are being heavily shelled from the high ground south of Crecy Au Mont, which has been captured by General Mangin.

Pound Vital Sectors

London, Aug. 27.—Even though the Germans have bolstered their rear guard defense with counter-attacks in many places, the British and French are pounding their way forward on the vital sectors of the battle front. The official announcement from London says that Marshal Haig's troops are making progress toward Beugnotre, two and a half miles northeast of Bapaume. British forces have established themselves in the northern outskirts of this German base.

The attackers have driven beyond the village of Montauban, three miles north of the Somme, and after capturing a wood near that place have reached Longueval. The Australians have made substantial gains east of Suzanne toward Dompre. Since last Wednesday, the British have captured a total of 21-

AMENDMENT TO THE WORK OR FIGHT LAW

Senate Adopts Measure Designed to Prevent Tying up War Industries With Strike

HITCHCOCK WOULD CALL BOYS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—The senate today adopted an amendment to the work or fight law in the man power bill which is designed to obviate the tying up of war industries through strikes, while at the same time recognizing the right of war workers to demand better conditions and to enforce those demands through a strike. The amendment provided that the work or fight provision shall not apply in the case of strikers who at once submit their grievance to the war labor board, agree to abide by its decision, and pending that decision, immediately return to work.

Concerning the peace terms of the speech of Senator Lodge, republican leader of senate, Hitchcock, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared that the United States and its allies must make victory certain by means of a military triumph.

"To do this," he declared, "we must create an army that will smash down Prussia's biggest hopes." He spoke in support of the calling of the youths of 18 and 19.

"He that lives by the sword must perish by the sword," said Hitchcock. "Germany must suffer a great military disaster so that the German people may learn that the system under which their government is operated is wrong and we must teach them the lesson by victory."

Washington, Aug. 27.—Mistaken in the dark at 3:15 this morning for a submarine, the U. S. submarine chaser 209 was shelled and sunk by the merchantman, Felix Toussig. The commander and fifteen men are missing from the chaser and nine have been safely landed.

HAS BEEN IN FOREIGN WATERS

"You bet the Jackies like to go across. You see the soldiers are not so fond of the ride over for many of them get good and seasick but the sailors are used to it and a rough sea doesn't affect them." Such were the comments on life at sea by Lawrence Denny of the Battle Ship New Hampshire, who formerly lived with his uncle, William Denny, of this city and who is visiting here on a furlough. He leaves Thursday to return to his battleship.

"We have seen service, we have been in foreign waters and have come in contact with some subs," said the young sailor, who is looking fine and is enthusiastic about life at sea. "There are about 1,600 men on our battleship and all of them are in the best of spirits."

EXCEPTION MADE TO NO ENLISTMENT RULE

Military Registrants May be Released to Enter Training School
For Marine Officers

ONLY EXCEPTION TO ORDER

The local army selection board has received a ruling from the provost marshal general, E. H. Crowder, providing for the release of technically qualified military registrants for enlistment in the navy for training as naval officers.

This is the first exception which has been made to the recent order that no military registrants be permitted to enlist in any branch of the service. Even enlistments in officers training camps by registrants was forbidden by the order.

The exception to the rule is explained in the order by the fact the navy needs nine thousand men with the training and experience qualifying them as material for training as marine engineer officers.

BAN PUT ON USE OF PLEASURE CARS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Aug. 27.—3:30 P. M.—The United States Fuel administration today banned the use of pleasure automobiles, motorcycles, and motor boats east of the Mississippi. The order is to go into effect on Sunday to permit the replenishment of gasoline stores. It applies on Sunday only, and will remain in effect until the stock is built up.

THIRTY-SEVEN MEN TO LEAVE IN A WEEK

First of Large Body of Registrants Called, Depart Tomorrow for Valparaiso

TWO DETACHMENTS GO FRIDAY

Board Selects Seventeen Men to Fill Camp Taylor Quota—Two Increments Go Sunday

The names of the registrants leaving on the several calls for the next week, and the date of their departure, will be found on page three.

Beginning tomorrow, there will be a continuous stream of selected men out of Rush county until, within a week, thirty-seven men will be inducted into the military service of the United States.

Three men leave tomorrow for Valparaiso university to enter training as motor mechanics. They were inducted into the service voluntarily, ahead of their order numbers. They will entrain at 10:51 a. m. over the C. I. & W.

The following day, Thursday, August 29, two selectives leave on a special train over the Big Four at 9:37 a. m. for Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich.

On Friday, August 30, two increments of men will leave here. Six entrain at 3:30 p. m. over the C. I. & W. for Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., and at 10:51 a. m. three limited service men depart for Camp Dodge, Des Moines, Iowa.

Two detachments of men will depart on Sunday, September 1, to enter training schools for auto mechanics at Indianapolis and Purdue. Three will go to Indianapolis and two to Purdue. Although no train schedule has been received, it is presumed that these two increments will leave at 10:51 a. m. over the C. I. & W. as this is the time detachments to these two places have left on previous calls. Registrants volunteered on these two calls and did not have to be selected according to their order numbers.

Two detachments will leave some time during the four-day period from September 3 to 6. Seventeen men, who were selected by the army board today according to their order numbers, will go to Camp Taylor, Ky., and one limited service man will be sent to Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill. The limited service registrant has not been selected to fill this call. The exact date of leaving for these two increments are expected within the next few days.

This represents all of the calls received to date, but it is probable that many more will be called during September.

GAS COMPANIES TO CHARGE 40 CENTS

Order of State Commission Increases Rates of Central Fuel
And Peoples Co.

$1 MINIMUM FOR THE FORMER

Although no official notices have been received by the Central Fuel and Peoples Natural Gas companies of this city, Indianapolis newspapers announce that the rates of both companies have been increased from thirty to forty cents a thousand cubic feet by the state public service commission. Notification by the state commission is expected by both companies at any time.

In addition to being granted the request for an advance of ten cents a thousand cubic feet, the Central Fuel company was also given the right in the order to charge a minimum monthly rate of one dollar. If the consumer's bill does not amount to one dollar a month, computed at the rate of forty cents a thousand, he will have to pay a dollar anyway.

The Peoples company asked to be given the authority to charge one dollar for the first thousand cubic feet and fifty cents for each thousand feet thereafter. The Rushville Natural Gas company is now receiving forty cents a thousand.

SCHOOLS ARE PRAISED FOR THEIR PATRIOTISM

Ranked With Marion and St. Joseph Counties Because of Their Many Accomplishments

RECOGNIZED BY DEFENSE BODY

Honor comes to the schools of Rushville and Rush county with the announcement in the state bulletin of the Council of Defense that they are ranked, together with the schools of Marion and St. Joseph counties, as having accomplished more in a patriotic way than any other schools in the state.

The movement to make every pupil in the Rushville schools a member of the Red Cross society; the money raised by the forty boys among the "First Hundred Thousand" who each gave ten dollars to the Y. M. C. A. fund; the Red Cross work done through the domestic science departments of the schools; the Thrift stamp campaigns; and every other patriotic enterprise which was carried through successfully by the teachers and students of the schools—all entered into giving the schools of the city and county the name of having accomplished as much as any other schools in the state in an educational way for patriotic causes.

James Beaver spent the day in Indianapolis today.

Exciting Letter From Raymond
Colestock Gives First Hand Story

FRENCH PRAISE THE SAMMIES

German Shells Fly Around as American Soldiers Take Shells up to Cannon in Front

"Believe me we held them and made the Dutch pay heavy for starting something," writes Private Raymond D. Colestock, with the 150th P. A. in France, in an interesting letter to his parents, in which he vividly portrays the determination of the American Sammies.

"Sunday night about 11:30," he writes, "the Germans started their artillery attack on a front of about sixty miles and we were helping to hold a part of that line. The big guns, both ours and theirs, roared all night long, and were so loud that not many of us slept any. I got up and watched it for more than two hours and it was a beautiful sight. The whole horizon seemed ablaze as far as one could see and the earth trembled and quivered under the shock of the big guns. All the time star shells and different colored rockets were flying so it made a first class display of fireworks."

"About four o'clock, the bugle called us and we packed up and hitched up our teams in double quick time but we stayed there awaiting orders. We were to hold to the last at any cost and believe me we did. The French praised our regiment highly for the fine work we did. A battery fired on a town for about ten minutes and we are supposed to have accounted for (censored)."

"The French think more of us now than they ever did. They thought we would be no good but we have soon shown them and have done as good work as their oldest and best troops. On Monday morning we got a little taste of real war and German shell fire. They put shells all around us and several of them were so close that the pieces sang past our ears and the dirt fell around us. We picked up several small pieces that fell among us. Shortly before noon was when we caisson drivers got our baptism of fire. We had to take a load of shells up to the guns, and shells were lighting all around the road we had to travel on. We went on the run, one caisson at a time and all got there, although the shells hit uncomfortably close. I got up alright and started back and just as I got up on a small raise, a shell lit about fifteen feet off the road, passing over the back end of my caisson. The force of it nearly threw me out of the saddle and I got hit with a chunk of dirt but was not hurt a bit. But pieces of steel whizzed rather wickedly past my ears."

"Bad luck seemed to be after me for I only went a short distance until the horse I was riding gave out, stumbled and fell, with all three teams on the dead run. The horse and I were dragged about twenty feet before I could stop. I got my feet out of the stirrups some way and wasn't even scratched. The horse was a big one and sure was tangled up. You ought to have seen me work for I lifted a ton almost and had to take the harness almost apart to get the horse out and another hitched in. The wheel drive came to my rescue and took the caisson on in while I picked up the pieces of harness. While that was going on we flopped on the ground about three times for the German

NEW DUTY FOR DEFENSE BODIES

County Council is Asked to Aid in Apprehension of Deserters And Delinquents

A PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY
Requested to Investigate Case of Every Unknown Civilian of Draft Age

In conformity with the suggestion of President Wilson that the state defense councils be utilized further, the War department has called upon the Indiana State Council of Defense to assist in the detection and apprehension of deserters and delinquents who have evaded the selective service law by failing properly to register.

The State council in a special bulletin has requested county councils of defense to assume this new and additional duty. The county councils are expected to co-operate fully with the agents of the department of justice in this work.

The bulletin to county councils suggests that every member feel a personal responsibility for the detection of every deserter or delinquent, particularly those whose presence might reflect upon the patriotism of the community. Every strange man in uniform, if on a legitimate errand "will have the evidence to establish that fact," says the state council's request, and any stranger in uniform "whose business is kept secret, should be regarded with suspicion."

The county councils are asked to investigate the case of any "unknown" civilian between the ages of 21 and 31 to ascertain whether he has a registration or exemption card. His failure should be reported promptly to the nearest agent of the department of justice. Deserters should be delivered to the nearest military post.

"In addition to the direct results of these specific activities, the arousing of public sentiment will be of great value," the state council asserts.

Labor Day

It is well that the government has set aside a day out of the year, dedicating it to the cause of labor, a day when we are called upon to turn our thoughts to this great element of the world. At ordinary times we are likely to take the conveniences of life for granted and overlook the fact that from the beginning to the close of our day labor is the basis element which provides these conveniences. It mines the coal which our heats our houses. It is essential to the lighting of our streets and the running of our railway trains and street cars. Every article of which we use, whether it is made of wood from the forest, iron from mines, or any other product of nature, requires labor at every step from the procuring of the raw material to the final touch of the manufacture. The army of labor must keep step with the world day by day to render civilized life possible.

If these are the obligations of the nation to labor in times of peace, how much greater do they become in times of war? The army of working men is lessened by the drafting of men for the nonproductive industry of war. New duties are incumbent upon the men who are left. Ships must be built, equipment and ammunition for the army made, there must be an increase in the coal mined and shipped, and additional supplies of all kinds must be transported.

Without the army of labor at home there could not be the army of combatants in the field. The obligation of the United States to its body workers is great. The workers have shown in the main loyal acceptance of the aims of the government and loyal endeavor to assist in carrying out these aims.

Labor Day this year of all others should bring different classes of Americans closer to each other in sympathy and understanding. Soldier and civilian, capitalist and worker, we are a people inspired by one great purpose. Let us give honor to the force of working men who help to make the attainment of that purpose certain.

Bad News For Berlin

The war news from the eastern front these days is bad news for the German people. Quotations from German newspapers portray the gloom that overhangs the people in the large cities. That the people in the small towns and country are equally depressed is not to be doubted.

The Liberty Loan bond buyers of the preceding loans have their share in the success of the entente allies. They furnish the sinews of war not only to fight the U-boats and, to build ships, not only to raise, equip, and send our soldiers over, not only to supply them and our allies with food and munitions, but more than $6,000,000,000 of their money has been loaned to our allies so that they may prosecute the war with vigor and strength.

We here at home have an opportunity to send the Germans some more bad news. The Germans have great respect for money; they know its vital value in waging war. They know, too, that the support the American people give a Government loan measures largely the support they give their Government, the moral as well as the financial support they give their armies in the field.

A tremendous subscription to the Fourth Liberty Loan will be as distressing to the German people as a defeat for them on the battle field, and it will mean as much. It spells their defeat; it breaks their morale; it means power to their enemies. A subscription to the loan is a contribution to German defeat and American victory.

Importation of luxuries into the United States in the fiscal year 1918 shows a material fall-off when compared with the preceding year, and a marked decline when compared with the year before the war. Just how great the actual reduction is difficult to state, because of the fact that many of the articles usually classed as luxuries are stated only in figures of value, and as prices of those per unit of quantity have advanced the lower value figures do not adequately represent the decline in quantities imported. In practically all articles in which quantities are stated that fall-off is very large, and in those measured only by value figures there is in most cases a material reduction.

A compilation by the National City Bank of New York shows that in practically all the imports usually classed as luxuries the 1918 figures all materially below those of the preceding year, and are far less than those of the year before the war. That they should be less than before the war is quite natural by reason of the fact that many of the articles of this character originated in the European countries, some in the countries with which we are now at war, and some with our allies now too busily employed to manufacture or otherwise accumulate materials of this class for exportation. The Bank's figures show remarkable declines in the 1918 imports of practically all articles classed as luxuries.

The crown princess of Germany recently took a little pleasure trip to Helgoland in a submarine. She did not have an opportunity to secure her husband's consent, as he was absent on urgent affairs.

The I. W. W.'s have long had the reputation of being the Industrial Workers of the World. Now their representatives (just convicted in Chicago) will work—at Leavenworth or elsewhere.

It is with various kinds of anticipation that the school children are looking forward to their meeting with Dear Teacher in September.

Young Men Urged to Continue Education Until Called to War

The committee in charge of the "Continue Your Education" campaign last May submitted to you the following stirring appeal to young men and women prepared by President W. L. Bryan of Indiana University:

"Near the opening of the Great War a brigade of Australians arrived in France and was sent into battle. They were ordered to charge to a certain point and stop there. They were protected by a barrage—a cataract of shells fired from behind them over their heads. The Australians won the position they were ordered to win. But they did not stop there. They would show friend and foe how Australians could fight. They would go on once straight ahead to Berlin."

Result. They marched to death into the cataract of shells from their own protecting artillery. "Young man, if you are called now into service and sent into the battle line in France, go. But if you are eighteen and in high school or just out of high school and if our Governor and our President tell you to stay in school and make yourself ready for more effective service, obey. Don't commit the military sin which those Australians committed. Don't march ahead of your orders. Don't be wiser than General Pershing and Governor Goodrich and President Wilson. They want your better trained mind more than they want your arms and legs. Stay where they say you can to the most good. Learn the first lesson of a soldier. Obey. Get ready to do your best."

COMPLETE ADDRESS MARKS SOLDIER MAIL

American Expeditionary Force must be Written Out in Full on Packages and Letters.

MIXED WITH AUSTRALIAN MAIL

In addressing letters and packages to American soldiers on the other side of the ocean, the government as well as the army officials have ordered that American Expeditionary Forces be written on each package instead of using the initial, A. E. F.

Because of the fact that there are also expeditionary forces in Europe and among the allied armies from Australia, much confusion has resulted which doubtless accounts for the loss of a large amount of the mail sent to the American boys. It is vitally necessary that this ruling be observed in order that a safe conveyance of the mail may be assured and as a result postoffice officials here have asked that local people sending letters and packages across, abandon the use of the initials in the addresses. The company and regiment address supplied with "American Expeditionary Force" completes the address, according to the post-office department, which states that the additional "via New York" and "care postmaster New York" is not necessary.

DRY FOOD AND PRESERVE THE NATION

U.S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

HOUSEWIVES MAY UTILIZE HEAT FROM STOVES IN DRYING

For the housewife who desires to utilize the heat furnished by the range or stove in the course of her cooking operations to dry a supply of foodstuffs for family use, there are cookstove driers in wide variety upon the market. These range in type from a simple skeleton frame of wood or light iron, supporting three or more trays of wire screening and designed to stand upon the top of the stove or to be suspended from the ceiling above it, to rather elaborate wood or metal cabinets having six to ten trays and holding fifty pounds or more of raw products at a filling.

When the amounts of material to be handled are smaller than would justify the purchase of one of these devices, the oven of the ordinary coal or wood stove or that of bute the heat to all parts of the dried.

Importance of Ventilation

One mistake frequently made by amateurs is to fail to open the ventilators of the drier to their fullest extent when the device is in use. A good drier is as unlike a baking oven as possible; in the oven every effort is made by making the doors fit almost air-tight, to hold in the steam produced when the material is heated, while in a drier an attempt must be made to get rid of the moisture given off by the drying material as quickly as possible. To accomplish this requires that the air inlets and outlets at the base and the top of the drier be opened widely in order that a brisk current of warm air may flow constantly through the apparatus. Any drier which is not provided with abundant openings for the escape of air is a poor drier, no matter what its degree of perfection in other respects may be.

A second mistake frequently made by beginners is to attempt to increase the capacity of the drier by overloading the trays. A deeply loaded tray of such materials as sweet corn, for example, may dry perfectly upon both upper and lower surfaces, while a central layer, protected by the compactly packed grains above and below it, has lost very little water. Such deeply loaded trays require frequent stirring, dry unevenly, so that portions of the material are too dry while others have more moisture than is permissible, and consequently turn out a product much inferior in quality an oil or gas stove may be utilized; the materials to be dried may be spread in baking tins or upon bits of wire netting and placed in the oven the door left partially open to allow the water vapor to escape, and the fire carefully regulated in order that overheating and consequent injury to the product may not occur. If the quantities to be dried are too great to be handled in this manner, and it is not desirable to purchase a drier, there are a great variety of home-made devices which may be easily constructed at the expense of a little labor.

In operating cookstove driers, whether of the simple homemade type or more expensive and capacious manufactured devices, the quality of the product depends upon the process. The temperature must be rather carefully watched; the trays must be examined from time to time in order that any portions which are not drying properly may be spread more thinly. This will also guard against over-drying with the resulting production of crisp, brittle, scorched or browned material. If driers are being operated over a gas or oil burner there is always danger that the central portions of the lower trays may become overheated while those higher up are drying more slowly; this should be guarded against by supplying the drier which is being so used with a plate of sheet iron, perforated with fine holes, which replaces the lowest tray and acts as a radiator to distribute to that which would be produced in the same drier with lighter loading. Furthermore, the time required to dry a deep layer is so much greater than that necessary for a thin one that the daily capacity of the drier is decreased rather than increased by heavy loading.

Equipment Needed for Drying

The equipment used in preparing food materials for drying may be as simple or as elaborate as the needs of the case may require. With two or three narrow, stiff-bladed kitchen knives, a larger more flexible knife, and an ordinary washboiler, the housewife is equipped for preparing and blanching such quantities of the fruits and vegetables as will meet the needs of the ordinary household. While somewhat tedious, hand paring and slicing of apples, pears, peaches, apricots, onions, carrots, potatoes, beets and cabbage may be done without special equipment.

If the quantity of material to be handled will justify the expenditure, the purchase of a few special utensils will greatly reduce the labor involved. An apple parer of the type which pares and cores or pares, cores and slice can be purchased for approximately $1.75. A kraut cutter which consists of a long board having one or more steel blades fastened at the edges of slots cut in the board may be purchased or made by a blacksmith and will be useful not only in slicing cabbage for drying or for making sauer kraut, but also for slicing any of

SOME BEEF IS LOWER IN PRICE

Food Administration Requests Purchase of Meat From Cattle of Lighter Weight

MOVE RAPIDLY TO MARKET

Will Relieve Strain on Market For Heavier Beef Which is Needed Now For Allies

Housewives who have been accustomed to purchase beef from heavier weight carcasses should now be able to buy at much lower prices than the average which has ruled during the past year if they observe the Food Administration's request to demand meat from cattle which dress below 475 pounds per head. The Food Administration declared today that the light-weight cattle are now moving rapidly to market, the producers in the southwest endeavoring to dispose of them before they suffer further from the effects of long continued drought.

Heavy steers are being sold in Eastern meat centers for $26 to $27 per hundred pounds; good weight steers at $23 to $24, and light weight steers at $14 to $18.

While prices are not uniform throughout the country, it will be found that this ratio will rule in practically every market. Meat markets which normally cut $26 beef can obviously give their patrons the benefit of such a wide difference in first cost. Selling light cuts, bought at $14 to $18, there should be a material reduction below the selling price of meat bought at $26.

The food Administration believes that its request for consumption of the light cattle will not do much to relieve the producers who are affected by severe droughts, but should be followed by a general downward trend in retail purchasing prices—the demand turning to the cattle which are now in abundance and relieving the strain on the market for heavier export to the civil populations of the Allied countries. The market should naturally follow in its price reductions the difference in the first cost, providing a reasonable low price to those who utilize the light-weight cattle. They are wholesome, of good quality, and before being marketed have passed Government inspection.

STRICT RULING FOR THE WHEAT MILLERS

Those Grinding Wheat From Farmers Wagons on Toll Basis May Charge 35 Cents Per Bushel

MIGHT IMPERIL LICENSE

Wheat millers who receive wheat from farmers' wagons and grind such on a toll basis, or exchanges wheat for flour and feed, may charge not to exceed 35 per bushel for each 60 pounds of clean wheat so received. The toll is collectable on a money basis only. It is not of permissible for mills to accept wheat as toll in lieu of cash.

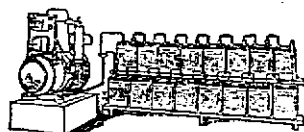

The above regulation was received, today from the Grain corporation of the United States food administration, by Dr. Harry E. Barnard, federal food administrator for Indiana. All grain zone agents have been notified that failure to conform with these regulations imperils the license of the miller.

the root vegetables, or such fruits as apples. A rotary slicer, consisting of a curved blade fastened to a disk rotating at right angles to a metal trough in which the vegetables to be sliced are placed, is a great convenience, as the blade may be adjusted to cut slices of any desired thickness, and the instrument may be used for slicing meats, cheese, or bread as well as for cutting vegetables. Such slicers are made in various sizes costing $2 to $10.

HENRY FORD SEEKS DOUBLE NOMINATION

Wants to Represent Both Democratic and Republican Parties in U. S. Senate

THE MICHIGAN PRIMARY TODAY

Detroit, Aug. 27.—With the double race of Henry Ford, Detroit automobile manufacturer, for the Republican and Democratic nomination for the senate, the outstanding feature, Michigan polls opened today for the senate, the outstanding feathens candidates for the November state, congressional and senatorial elections.

Unique in the annals of Michigan political history because one of the most prominent men of the state is seeking a double nomination, another touch of the unusual is added by the refusal of Ford and former Governor Chase S. Osborn, William G. Simpson and Truman, his Republican opponents, to conduct an active campaign for the nomination.

Ford has made no personal campaign. Commander Newberry, of the Third United States naval district has not been inside the state since announcement of his candidacy was made by a committee of Detroit and Michigan business men. Former Governor Osborn has confined his drive for the nomination to a few speeches and an occasional statement to the press. James W. Helme, former state dairy commissioner, the sole Democratic candidate, has made no active campaign.

SHOWS TRACTOR AS A HORSE ELIMINATOR

Demonstration by Automotive Corporation Successfully Conducted on J. J. Amos Farm

IT MAY BE ASSEMBLED HERE

A very successful demonstration of the utility tractor, made by the Automotive Corporation, was conducted yesterday on the J. J. Amos farm south of the city, and another exhibit was to take place today. A similar demonstration will be held at Knightstown Thursday and at Newcastle next Monday.
To show the value of the tractor as a means of eliminating the horse entirely from the farm, was the purpose of the exhibition. The tractor is driven with lines just as a horse is driven and may be used for all sorts of work on the farm. In the demonstration, it was shown that the tractor could plow very deep or shallow, and that it could be started with ease after the plow was buried in the ground. The tractor will also back easily, or turn around in a circle eight feet in diameter.
It is the purpose of the Automotive Corporation, if a branch is located here, to assemble tractors for this territory in Rushville, as has been stated previously. On account of the curtailment of the passenger car industry, it is very likely, Mr. Wyatt, head of the corporation, said yesterday, that the plant here would be devoted exclusively to building tractors.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kenner entertained the past week Mr. and Mrs. George Giffin, sons Allen and Dale, and daughter Agatha; Paul Griffin of Indianapolis; Mrs. Susie Carson and daughter Adila; Mrs. Mollie Hood and Miss Gladys Woods.
Mr. and Mrs. Charless Erkem were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Erkem Sunday.

STRONG APPEAL FOR REPUBLICAN SUPPORT

Belle O'Hair Asks That Susan Anthony Amendment go to the Credit of Republicans.

SPEAKS IN WAYNE COUNTY

Richmond, Ind., August 27.—Miss Belle O'Hair, a suffrage worker of Indianapolis, enlivened a recent organization meeting of Wayne county Republicans by pleading with them to send Republicans to Congress so that full credit for the enactment of the Susan Anthony amendment would go to the Republicans and not to Democrats, who, she said, did not deserve it. "It is a far fall," she said, "from the old attitude of the Democratic administration toward equal suffrage and the present support of the measure. Shall the Democrats with their death bed repentance gather the fruits of victory or shall they go to the Republicans where they belong? All indications are that the great victory of woman's suffrage will rest with the Republicans, who seem now to be sure to be swept into office. Great Republican leaders and congressmen endorsed the movement. Northern Democrats are making desperate efforts now to whip the recalcitrant southern Democrats into line, but it is too late." Her speech was accepted with great approval by more than 100 Republican workers. It was the first time that a woman had spoken before a Republican organization meeting in Wayne county.

EVEN NOW PARIS MUST HAVE ITS FASHION SHOW

By WEBB MILLER

Paris, Aug. 27.—While the German guns are thundering day and night only forty-six miles from Paris, hundreds of girls and women are working feverishly, preparing for the great Autumn fashion show.
Despite the perils of ocean and trans-channel travel, millinery and gown buyers from the big establishments on 5th avenue and Oxford St., and even from faraway Buenos Aires and Rio Janeiro, are already flocking to Paris for the opening autumn shows.
Here and there on the boulevards the "last minute" things in women's hats and gowns for the coming season are appearing. The German menace to Paris has utterly failed to shake her position as the world's fashion capital.
At a recent meeting of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne, an association of the principal gown-manufacturers, the modistes protested against the reports that the big establishments were curtailing their activities on account of the danger to Paris.
Mme. Paquin, president of the Chambre said that the autumn show would be as great an event as ever in the fashion world.
"All of the big places are busy this very moment," she said, "preparing their collections for the coming autumn season, and we will hold our usual grand openings in August with as much display as usual."
"We want our American and English customers who come so far to see our semi-annual shows to know that we will not desert Paris. We will have the same number of models and designs as usual."
Already many New York buyers have arrived for the autumn and winter selections.
and Doyle and Floyd Davidson of Laurel motored to Spiceland Sunday.

MEDICAL MEN MAY ENLIST SERVICES

Suspension of Volunteering by War Department Among Civilians Not to Include Doctors

MEDICAL RESERVE CORPS OPEN

Because The Need of Physicians is Great the Government is Urging Rapid Enlistment

The suspension by the War Department of further volunteering or the receipt of candidates for officers' training camps from civil life does not apply to members of the medical profession, according to notice just received by Dr. Joseph R. Eastman, chairman of the Indiana Committee, medical section, Council of National Defense, from Dr. Franklin Martin, Washington, chairman of the General Medical Board. Fearing that the War Department's order might be misinterpreted by doctors who would not distinguish between enlistment as a private soldier and enrollment as an officer of the Medical Reserve Corps. Dr. Martin asked the Secretary of War to issue a statement making clear this point. In reference to this request the following statement was made by Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War, and Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy:
"Orders issued by the War and Navy Departments on August 8 suspending further volunteering and receipt of candidates for officers' training camps from civil life do not apply to the enrollment of physicians in the Medical Reserve Corps of the Army and the Reserve Force of the Navy. It is the desire of both Departments that the enrollment of physicians should continue as actively as before so that the needs of both services may be effectively met.
"It is desirable," says Dr. Martin, "that the definite attention of the medical profession be called to this interpretation in order that enrollment for the Medical Reserve Corps of the Army and the Reserve Force of the Navy, which is going on so rapidly at the present time, shall not be interrupted."

RECEIPTS FOR MAKING INVERT SUGAR SIRUP

Any housewife can readily follow this recipe for making invert sugar sirup. Take 10 pounds of granulated sugar, 4 1/2 pints of water, and 1/5 ounce of tartaric acid (obtainable at any drug store) and boil slowly in a covered kettle for about 30 to 35 minutes. If boiled longer, the sirup begins to darken in color and develop a taste like corn sirup. The result is 14 pounds of sirup from 10 pounds of sugar and, weight for weight, the two are equivalent in sweetening power. The sirup can be used for sweetening all sorts of cooking, fruits, cereals, ice-cream, etc., although it may not be relished in coffee. It must be borne in mind that this sirup must be substituted for granulated sugar weight for weight, and not volume for volume, since about 3/4 of a cup of sirup is equal to a cup of sugar.
The one minor objection to invert sugar is that it cannot be obtained in dry form. It is estimated that in spite of the extra manufacturing cost the same sweetening power can be bought as cheaply in the form of invert sugar as in the form of granulated sugar. The pitcher of sirup and Doyle and Floyd Davidson of Laurel motored to Spiceland Sunday.

SAYS LABOR QUOTA FOR COUNTY IS 70

State Director Informs A. L. Stewart Rush Should Supply This Number of Unskilled Workers

SECOND CALL IS INDICATED

Problematical What Result Will be Because of Doubtful Authority of Employment Service

A. L. Stewart, chairman of the Rush county labor board, has received word from L. C. Huesman, state director of the United States employment service, that Rush county's quota for unskilled labor, based on the first call from the country at large, is seventy men, but it is problematical just what action will be taken on the call of the so-called employment service for unskilled labor, in the light of a dispatch last Saturday from Washington which said that this employment service apparently has no authority to regulate the labor distribution of the country.

Together with the call, is sent out a list of what is labeled "non-essential industries" issued by the District of Columbia community labor board. The right and authority, either given outright by law or implied, of this board to list certain industries as essential and others as non-essential, is questioned and it is doubtful, if employers and employees will heed such calls until they have been shown that there is a need for such drastic steps being taken to recruit labor for war work.

The state director of the U. S. employment service, also sends to Mr. Stewart a statement marked "important-urgent," calling attention to the quota charged to this county.

"You should at once call your board together," he says, "and ascertain as promptly as possible the available man power in your locality which is not already employed in war work, on farms, railroads or mines."

"Plans for getting out your quota, you have. For the present you will report the amount of your recruitment to this office as well as to your district U. S. employment office."

"Your second quota will follow in a few days, and will be an amount approximately equal, if not greater, than this first call. Therefore, immediate action is imperative."

Winter Garden Attraction

Visitors to the State Fair are assured of a treat theatrically speaking during their visit to Indianapolis next week, opening Monday afternoon Labor Day, special matinee performance. Other matinees specially arranged for matinee theatre-goers Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday. The management of the Shubert Murat Theatre has made certain that the attraction at that house for this gala week shall be the best. "Doing Our Bit" the latest and best of all New York Winter Garden spectacles made by Messrs. Lee and J. J. Shubert will be the offering. This mammoth entertainment is coming to Indianapolis direct from an all summer's run at the Palace Theatre in Chicago in fifteen gorgeous scenes brimming over with beautiful girls and clever comedians. In its splendid cast of stage stars are such names to conjure with as Henry Lewis, James J. Corbett, Chic Sales, Ernest Hare, the Cousins, Leah Norah, Virginia Fissinger, Mary Flood, James Clemons, Bud Murray, Mildred Holliday, Gladys Turner.

Scenically speaking "Doing Our Bit" is one of the most ambitious productions ever made by the New York Winter Garden. It fifteen scenes embrace a visit to practically all the bright spots of the world where smart people are wont to gather. There is the Justine Johnson Club in New York, a bit of the white light section adjacent to Broadway, White Sulphur Springs, a carnival scene in one of the Latin countries, Monte Carlo, Peacock Alley at one of the fashionable hotels of Europe, and a Colonial conservatory the warning given in the clever pictorial in which smart society of our time to be shown at the Princess grandfather's time is shown. Then, theatre this evening in "Vivetti," in there is a series of patriotic pictures showing a registration office, the deck of a troop ship, a soldier's dream, and finally the disembarkation of American troops in France. This latter scene is the big patriotic spectacle of the extravaganza, and it is the work of Lincoln J. Carter, famous for these sort of things and J. J. Shubert.

Seldom has any musical attraction offered such a wealth of melody as does "Doing Our Bit". Under the skillful direction of Mr. Samuel Leham, the celebrated musical director, a special orchestra renders in a most pleasing manner, some twenty-three song hits. New York Winter Garden Shows always have the pick of the beautiful chorus women for which Broadway is noted, and "Doing Our Bit" is said to even excel others in the selection of these charming stage Misses.

Two Headliners Tonight

"Think before you wink girls," is the warning given in the clever pictorial which is to be shown at the Princess grandfather's time is shown. Then, theatre this evening in "Vivetti," in which pretty Vivian Martin takes the leading role. Another star number on tonight's double program is "Good Night Nurse," in which Fatty Arbuckle is his funniest in the part of nurse. Norma Talmadge is at her best in the production in which she will star tomorrow afternoon and evening, "The Safety Curtain". Among the most thrilling scenes are those in which there is a fire panic in a theatre, a plague in India and other interesting pictures. The Pathe News feature will also be run tomorrow. One of the biggest pictures of the season is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday in "The Unbeliever."

To be ready to feed refugees in Paris, the American Red Cross workers packed individual meals in boxes ready to hand to the hungry homeless the moment they arrived. The first of these were used to feed some 450 people who arrived in Paris on canal boats at midnight.
